

OUR LADY OF RANSOM

25th Sunday of the Year – Year A – Divine Office Wk 1
19th / 20th September 2020

The pistol fired. Feet pounded against the road in one thunderous roar. The town's 3-mile mini-marathon had begun. Some were running to win, others simply to take part. Whatever, everyone was to get a medal. Some were sponsored raising money for charity. Others ran to prove to their children and grandchildren that they were still fit! Children ran to prove they were still fitter!

Approaching the last half-mile of the race a twelve year old in his track-suit bottoms joined in. He ran slower than the rest, eventually getting to the finishing line last of all, and was thrilled. Medals were handed out as planned, including the twelve year old. "Hold it", they cried. "He only ran half a mile, we're shattered having ran the full three miles. That's not fair". The judge told everyone to look. He rolled up the boy's trouser leg to reveal a false foot and calliper. "To you", the judge said, "half a mile; to this brave little lad, it could have been twenty miles".

We see similar complaints in today's Gospel. "It's not fair". And humanly, it isn't. But as Isaiah says, God's ways and thoughts are not ours. God gives according to our needs. Jesus is clearly subverting the idea that God orders life on the basis of rewards for work done. God is the generous God, and we humans find it so easy to begrudge such generosity. The labourers needed a minimum amount to live on, irrespective of the hours put in. They get it because God is generous.

The poor people will have been sick and tired of how they were exploited by the wealthy powerful land-owners. The poor know the rich are being stingy, trying to get by with as few workers as possible in the morning. The work doesn't get done. So they need more in the afternoon. Paying the same wage only serves to make them look generous and good hearted, amidst their corruption. What arrogance!

So we see the story is also about Jesus' heavy-handed criticism of the "domination system", how the rich and powerful control everything. He wants to subvert it, and is calling us to be aware of the same, and act. A call to justice - social justice.

We are called to be aware of God's generous compassion, not rewards, and of a system and society that can so often lack compassion. And do something about it.

God Bless, Fr. Paul.

Please note that ALL applications MUST be returned by Sunday 18th October.

SCHOOL ADMISSIONS: CERTIFICATE OF CATHOLIC PRACTICE

The extraordinary situation we all find ourselves in this year will form part of the circumstances of each case. Ultimately, the priest is being asked to do no more than certify whether or not the child comes from a practising Catholic family to the best of his knowledge and belief, in all the circumstances.

Essex Police Fraud Alert System

COURIER FRAUD BACK ON THE RISE

Essex Police ran a successful operation in January resulting in a number of arrests for offences known as courier fraud. This is where people receive phone calls from criminals claiming to be police officers and requesting that residents withdraw money from their bank accounts, often asking them to lie about the reasons for the withdrawal.

These callers claim to be from a variety of police forces, including Bedfordshire, Suffolk and 'Hammersmith Police'. Recently, callers have stated that someone has been arrested who has provided the recipients address as their own, or has bank cards belonging to the recipient in their possession. They will then advise that the recipient contact their bank—often keeping the line open so that the criminals can pretend to be a bank employee. They will then arrange another criminal to act as a 'courier' to come and collect the cash or bank cards.

If you are unsure whether a call is genuine, remember:

- Hang up—feel empowered to hang up and call back on a trusted number (such as the one on the back of your bank card). Never use a number provided by the caller. If possible, use a different phone, or wait five minutes before calling back to ensure that the line has disconnected. You have the right to confirm who you're talking to.
- Talk about it—talk to a friend or family member about it. They will quickly tell you whether it sounds suspicious.
- Tell2— these criminals target the elderly and most vulnerable members of society, but awareness is key to beating them! Tell2 empowers you to discuss crime prevention messages with others, who otherwise may never know. Tell2 people and ask them to do the same. An unbroken chain of 26 tell2'ers would reach 67 million people!

If you or someone you know is vulnerable and has been a victim of courier fraud, please call Essex Police on 101. Report fraud or attempted fraud by contacting Action Fraud at www.actionfraud.police.uk or call 0300 123 2040.

Pension Scams

During these times of uncertainty there are increased offers of financial investment and figures from the Financial Conduct Authority and the Pensions Regulator show over £30 million has been lost to pension scams since 2017.

Fraudsters will target pension pots large and small with losses anywhere between £1,000 and £500,000.

Some Top Tips on how to protect your retirement:

- 1 Know how much is in the pot—many people admit to not knowing how much money is currently in their pension making it difficult to make informed decisions.
- 2 Do your research—you wouldn't make any sort of large purchase without checking the product out first. I should be the same with financial decisions! Take your time to ensure you know exactly what you are purchasing and make use of resources such as the FCA (Financial Conduct Authority) Register to ensure that the firm is registered or speak to a financial advisor.
- 3 Don't be overconfident—nearly two thirds of people (65%) say they feel that they would be confident in spotting a scam, and yet many would still unknowingly put themselves at risk, with nearly 40% of people saying they would be swayed by tactics such as 'limited time offers'
- 4 Spot the signs—as above, be wary of 'limited time offers', legitimate firms will never try to panic you or push you into making a rushed decision. Many scams also promise 'guaranteed high returns' on your savings and most offers will be as a result of unexpected emails, phone calls or social media messages.

Government Number 'Spoofing'

The government has issued a warning following a number of scam calls being made that appear to come from a legitimate government telephone number. The number is that of the Government Legal Department and fraudsters are attempting to scare people into making payments by telling them they will be arrested if they refuse.

A Government spokesman said:

"We have been made aware that the Government Legal Department (GLD) general enquiry number (020 7210 8500) is being used by fraudsters to try and extract money from members of the public.

In most of the reported cases, the fraudsters claim they are calling from GLC or HMRC, with the GLD enquiry line number showing in the caller ID.

They are usually very aggressive on the phone, threatening members of the public that if they do not pay a certain amount of money, the police will arrest them. The calls are NOT being made by GLD or HMRC.

GLD will never call you from its enquiry line number. We will never ask you for your bank details or to pay us money over the phone.

If you receive a call of the type described about, please hang up and call Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 immediately. When making your report, please ask for it to be associated with report reference NFRC200803859141."

CALLER ID SPOOFING

Don't trust your caller ID.

Scammers can make any name or number show up on your caller ID. That's called spoofing.

How it can happen:

1. Scammers use automated dialing software to set up robocalls.

2. They decide what to display on your caller ID. It could look like a local call.

3. They start calling, and can make millions of calls over internet phone lines in minutes.

What you can do:

Use call blocking. Talk to your phone carrier and read expert reviews about your options.

READINGS AT MASS – 25th SUNDAY OF THE YEAR

First reading – Isaiah 55:6-9

My thoughts are not your thoughts

Seek the Lord while he is still to be found,
call to him while he is still near.
Let the wicked man abandon his way,
the evil man his thoughts.
Let him turn back to the Lord who will take pity on him,
to our God who is rich in forgiving;
for my thoughts are not your thoughts,
my ways not your ways – it is the Lord who speaks.
Yes, the heavens are as high above earth
as my ways are above your ways,
my thoughts above your thoughts.

Psalm 144

The Lord is close to all who call him.

1. I will bless you day after day
and praise your name for ever.
The Lord is great, highly to be praised,
his greatness cannot be measured. (R.)
 2. The Lord is kind and full of compassion, slow to anger, abounding in love.
How good is the Lord to all,
compassionate to all his creatures. (R.)
 3. The Lord is just in all his ways
And loving in all his deeds.
He is close to all who call him,
who call on him from their hearts. (R.)

Second reading - Philippians :20-24,27

Life to me is Christ; but death would bring me more

Christ will be glorified in my body, whether by my life or by my death. Life to me, of course, is Christ, but then death would bring me something more; but then again, if living in this body means doing work which is having good results – I do not know what I should choose. I am caught in this dilemma: I want to be gone and be with Christ, which would be very much the better, but for me to stay alive in this body is a more urgent need for your sake.

Avoid anything in your everyday lives that would be unworthy of the gospel of Christ.

Alleluia, alleluia!

Blessings on the King who comes in the name of the Lord!

Peace in heaven and glory in the highest heavens!

Alleluia!

Gospel - Matthew 18:21-35

Why be envious because I am generous?

Jesus said to his disciples: 'The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner going out at daybreak to hire workers for his vineyard. He made an agreement with the workers for one denarius a day, and sent them to his vineyard. Going out at about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the market place and said to them, "You go to my vineyard too and I will give you a fair wage." So they went. At about the sixth hour and again at about the ninth hour, he went out and did the same. Then at about the eleventh hour he went out and found more men standing round, and he said to them, "Why have you been standing here idle all day?" "Because no one has hired us" they answered. He said to them, "You go into my vineyard too." In the evening, the owner of the vineyard said to his bailiff, "Call the workers and pay them their wages, starting with the last arrivals and ending with the first." So those who were hired at about the eleventh hour came forward and received one denarius each. When the first came, they expected to get more, but they too received one denarius each. They took it, but grumbled at the landowner. "The men who came last" they said "have done only one hour, and you have treated them the same as us, though we have done a heavy day's work in all the heat." He answered one of them and said, "My friend, I am not being unjust to you; did we not agree on one denarius? Take your earnings and go. I choose to pay the last comer as much as I pay you. Have I no right to do what I like with my own? Why be envious because I am generous?" Thus the last will be first, and the first, last.'
