OUR LADY OF RANSOM

16th June 2024    Eleventh Sunday of the Year (B)    Psalter Week 3

Have you ever walked down any High St. and noticed the amount of instant money and food outlets there are? Quite a few. Or at home - instant internet, face-book, Instagram, instant photos, films, music, mail...the list goes on? It's all great, so immediate and instant...but...

It seems if we're not careful, our need for the "instant" can erode away our patience, humility and faith. Is God necessarily "instant?" Years ago, peoples' lives tended to be integrally connected to the secret rhythms of the earth. Things were less rushed – if faith and patience were stronger then, might that be why?

Today, deadlines and timetables become our taskmasters. Never enough time. Always rushing. Can we release our tight grasp on time so it can become our gentle companion rather than a relentless enemy, possibly destroying the soul?

Gardeners among us will know that growth can never be rushed – or something important is lost. Flowers, crops, plants all need to be allowed to grow to maturity – naturally...in nature. Can't hurry mother-nature, or we pay a price. There needs to be a patient waiting. Faith. A humility. Not instant, like email, cash or food.

Our spiritual lives are similar. Better to co-operate with the seasons of the soul. Qualities and dreams are being formed within, these suffer if plucked too early. They need a safe environment of gestation where natural growth is allowed and protected. Wisdom and discernment allow us to recognise ripeness. Plucked too soon and we taste the sourness of impatience. Too late, and the anticipated fruit begins to perish.

Much of what is developing within us is happening secretly. Hidden. But happening, it is. God's spirit within is blossoming, maturing. Like the crops growing. We need to wait, patiently, with humility, with faith. We cannot rush things. Crops, flowers, nature are not instant. We see why Jesus uses nature to explain so much about healthy life-styles. That can and will never change.

Do we rush under so much illusion of having to get things done; everything needing to be instant, or can we be patient and humble, which leads in turn to healthier and happier lives and a stronger faith?
