OUR LADY OF RANSOM

6th October 2024 Twenty-Seventh Sunday of the Year Psalter Week 3

Divorce, re-marriage, separation. Highly sensitive issues. People so often wrongly and unjustly stigmatised. Hurt, guilt confusion and anger, few of us have not been touched by these issues in same way. It leaves some families completely torn apart. Understanding and encouragement are always needed, not the raising of eyebrows in quiet criticism and furtive finger-pointing. So many good, decent people have been badly hurt by marriage break-ups, and are making an admirable job in putting their lives back together again. Yes, we live a very secular world that doesn't appreciate our teachings on marriage, relentlessly imposing its own problems, agendas and challenges to married couples, which leaves us wondering about God's will for us. Hard, often for married couples, I should also add - so it is with the priest.

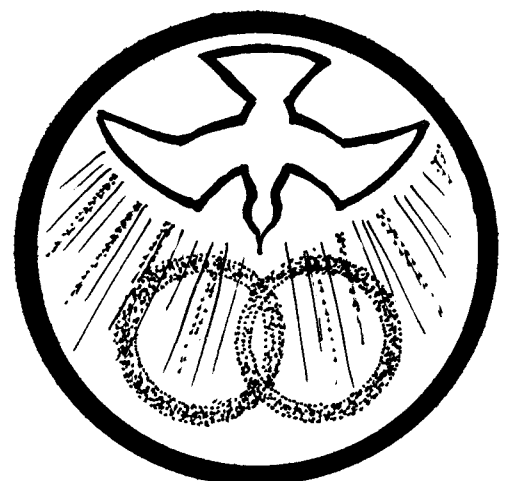

Yes, a couple commit themselves to each other in love, for life, at God's altar, with families and friends as witnesses. This must of course be the genuine intention of both. It is a partnership that involves the full weight of both personalities, this is God's desire, no lightweight thing. A priest lies prostrate before God at his ordination and commits himself for life to prayer and serving the people of God with love in his heart. He must intend this. Priesthood and marriage both need regular re-commitment. The couple continually remind each other of their mutual love through telling each other and by their actions. The priest regularly re-commits himself through prayer along with a sound and balanced service of the people. Both these vocations need working at. Life is not easy, nor is it meant to be, challenges, hard as they can be, can help us to grow, develop, learn and deepen.

Yes, marriage between baptised people is of its nature indissoluble, that is our church teaching and Catholic tradition as it is. I am not offering the points above as personal or pastoral advice. Individual cases are not being addressed here. It is only right that adequate consideration to church teaching be given. Equally; the church must be fair and compassionate about the results of the harsher, maybe unjust blows life throws at us, in all people's and couples' troubled lives. The fundamental point is: how can we work and struggle together to find growth, life, grace, mercy, peace and God himself – in people in their unique and troubled situation, right here, right now? That is, and must always be the church's mission – in other words, our mission.

We need to strike a fair balance. Fairness and consideration must work both ways.

1st Reading: Genesis 2: 18-24
Psalm: 127

2nd Reading: Hebrews: 2: 9-11
Gospel: Mark 10: 2-16

Whatever your circumstances, you are welcome to come along and learn more about what it means to be a Catholic Christian.

Please come along to find out more. You do not have to make any commitments at this point.

However, if you are not part of the Catholic tradition, and you decide during the programme you would like to commit yourself to the Catholic faith, you may be received into the Catholic Church at Easter in April 2025.

October is the month of the Holy Rosary: All people are encouraged to pray the Rosary throughout the month of October. We must ever more urgently pray for world peace – especially in these dangerous times we live in. When we pray the Rosary calmly and meditatively, we can find remedies for any evils that may be lurking deep down within, and find the source of all blessing.

World Mission Sunday - 20th October, 2024

World Mission Sunday is a day that unites Catholics in every parish and every country. From the remote villages of Malawi to the rugged landscapes of Mongolia, faith communities like ours are getting to celebrate, pray and share whatever they can with our brothers and sisters in need. We stand united with them in prayer, solidarity and action.

On this Mission Sunday, Pope Francis reminds us of Christ's call to each one of us to 'go and invite everyone to the banquet'. And when he says 'everyone', he means everyone. Our mission is to be instruments of God's love, to share the Gospel; and our mission is not just local - it's global.

Missio is the Pope's charity for world mission, and he has entrusted the global Missio network with coordinating the World Mission Sunday celebration. Mission ensures that today's offerings- and those collected in parishes worldwide - reach communities in the greatest need. These are places where poverty, conflict, or the challenges of being a young Church create profound needs. Your generosity will help faith communities build their own chapels, fund hospitals, schools and support vocations where the Church is just beginning to take root or is struggling to survive.

To share a glimpse of your support's impact: In Lebanon, where families live under the constant threat of rockets and gunfire, the Sisters of the Forsaken Jesus are a beacon of hope. Sister Jovanna lives alongside struggling communities in Lebanon. She tells us, 'Our aim is to share love and care with families in real need. As long as we have food, we will share it and do everything we can to support them, preserving their dignity and hope'.

In Mongolia, home to the youngest Catholic Church in the world, the harsh winters can decimate the crops and herds the nomadic people rely on for survival. Missionaries there offer shelter, food and hope to those who have lost everything, whilst quietly sharing their faith. With your help, Missio has also played a key role in training lay catechists and the first Mongolian Priest, who alongside missionaries from around the world, provide education, healthcare and spiritual formation. They are inviting everyone to know God's love.

World Mission Sunday is a lifeline for thousands of missionaries like those in Lebanon and Mongolia, who bring Christ's love to some of the most challenging places in our world.

These missionaries are often the first to respond in times of crisis and the last to leave the communities they serve. Today we give thanks for their tireless efforts as we share in their God-given mission to build a world of justice, peace and solidarity.

The essence of mission is to go out and invite others to share in the joy we receive through Christ's Resurrection. This joy isn't just for us; it is meant to be shared with the whole world. As Pope Francis reminds us the heart of our mission is to spread the Good News of God's love, which has the power to transform lives and heal our world.

As we gather around the Eucharistic table this World Mission weekend, let us remember that the poorest and most vulnerable of our brothers and sisters are the special guests at God's banquet. Together, let's respond to Christ's call to 'Go and invite everyone to the banquet'. Let's be the light and hope our world desperately needs, bearing witness to the love of Christ in all that we do.

Please pray for our sisters and brothers and for the work of missionaries throughout the world. And if you can, please donate on this World Mission Sunday weekend using Missio envelopes or online at Missio.org.uk

On behalf of Missio, THANK YOU for your generosity, your prayers and your commitment to God's global family

It will be dealt with in good time and returned back to you.

Thank you.

CELEBRATING THE JUBILEE

2025 will be a Holy Year for the whole church. Pope Francis has invited us to promote the rights of refugees in the Jubilee Year and beyond. On Saturday 12th October from 11 am (coffee available from 10.30) Victoria Firth and Liam Allmark of the Jesuit Refugee Service UK will discuss how we can take up Pope Francis' invitation. The event will take place at the Catholic Church of Christ the Eternal High Priest in Gidea Park (RM2 6DH). Live participation is encouraged, but the day can also be followed live or accessed later on www.whatgoodnews.org For those attending, the church is a short walk from Gidea Park station (Elizabeth Line). Easy access from A12 Gallows Corner, and from M25. There is ample car parking space at the church. Refreshments available. Please bring a packed lunch.

Could I please draw your attention to the Food Bank donations Box in the Church entrance. You have always given the SVP great support and I am sure you will continue to do so.

If you would like to learn more about the SVP work please speak to an SVP member. Also about any problems or concerns in strictest confidence.
