

OUR LADY OF RANSOM

21st June 2026 Twelfth Sunday of the Year Psalter Week 3

Max was a nice enough chap. For thirty years plus he had been doing much the same thing. Work- home- pub - home. Routine, predictable, in control. Same old, same old. But is he happy? Is he truly alive? Maybe, though very doubtful. There is certainly no excitement, no zip or zest in his life. One might say it is almost boring. Mindlessly repetitive would be an understatement. Is that really being happy? Really? Many like him will say they have found their niche in life. So, their lives are predictably routine and unexciting. They have been this way for 20, 30, 40, 50 years or more, why should they change? People in certain roles will take great pride in having done their thing for 30, 40, 50 years. And we say, well done.

But do they have these many years' experience, or, maybe, one year's experience repeated 30 or 40 times. Hold on to that last point. In other words, are there these many years of accumulated wisdom and learning, developing and maturing, having tried new things, taken risks, learned from mistakes and so on? Or is life just ongoing stagnation with mindless repetition?

Real faith is what allows us to go forward, take risks, sometimes let go of control, make mistakes and learn and grow. Fear paralyses these abilities, forcing us to always be able to predict, always be in control, be certain, and so no new wisdom and learning can happen. We are closed-minded. We become so set in our ways. We see so much fear around today. Like nothing else, fear paralyses us so intensely.

The opposite of fear is faith. Jesus often urges us not to be afraid, in other words, have faith. Several times in today's Gospel, in fact. The great give-away on the strength of people's faith is to see if they try new things, take risks, learn, be uncertain, let go of control, be prepared to be wrong. Or are people always needing to know, be right, be certain, repeat things, predict everything – be creatures of habit - all suggesting a deeper sense of fear. Approximately 365 times in the Bible we hear "do not be afraid". To have faith is to know that God is in everything, bad things and, of course, good alike. To have faith is an allowing of the Holy Spirit to do His thing. To be continually fearful is pushing back the Holy Spirit. Keeping Him away. Is that what we do with Our Lord's Holy Spirit?

Our Lord doesn't necessarily stop the problems we face but promises to be in them and totally with us and bring us through. This allows for a deepening of our relationship with Him, with each other, and with ourselves. Jeremiah absolutely gets this as he faces his enemies who were one-time friends. Like Jeremiah, we must experience God holding us, so we can go forward, unafraid, heads held high. There is much understandable fear generated in our world at this time. What is needed is people of real gutsy faith. Not religion, nor religious pieties, but faith. People who can go deep into their hearts to experience Heaven within themselves through bad and good times. Can we count ourselves among those who have faith? How might that faith be inspirational to others?

Day for Life 2026 Bishops' Message

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Day for Life presents an opportunity to celebrate the dignity of all human life from conception to natural end. The theme for 2026 is 'The Wonder of the Child in the Womb'.

Every year Day for Life falls on Father's Day and we wish fathers a blessed day. Today we remember with gratitude the loving care and direction our parents gave to us, whether they are still with us or have gone to the Lord.

Parenthood is a vocation of joys and hopes, of griefs and anxieties. On this year's Day for Life, we acknowledge the particular grief of mothers and fathers who have lost a child before birth or in infancy. Mother's Day and Father's Day can be especially difficult for parents who experience the loss of an infant. Such loss often takes its bodily toll upon the mother, and it can leave fathers feeling helpless and unsure of how to support their family, or of how to express their own grief.

The Church wants to be especially close to parents who have suffered the loss of an infant. We try to offer spiritual support through the pastoral care and blessing of our priests, and through the comfort of our liturgy. You only have to reach out to your priest or deacon if you would like to know more about this.

Just as importantly, many parents find consolation in their faith and its assurance that every child, including those who lose their life before they are born or soon after, is created, willed and deeply loved by God from all eternity. We have the Lord's promise from the Scriptures that: "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born, I consecrated you" (Jer 1:5).

The Word of God reveals the sacred humanity of the unborn child and perhaps helps us understand why we feel such profound grief at the loss of a baby. Parents instinctively grasp how precious and unique the child is whom they have lost and whom they may already have called by name. They know how no other child can ever replace them.

Science is clear that life begins at fertilisation when a new and unique living human being comes into existence. Every technological development in recent decades has given us insight into how life in the womb unfolds for each of us. At conception, our gender, genetic makeup and eye and hair colour are already determined. As early as five weeks, our heart begins to beat. By ten weeks, we can move and respond to touch and, beginning two weeks later, we have the capacity to feel pain. By eighteen weeks, our mother can sense our movement in the womb. By twenty-seven weeks, we can recognise the voices of our parents. For some decades, parents have been able to observe some of these stages through ultrasound scans during pregnancy. The more we learn about the science, the more we understand the teaching of the Church on the unique value of the unborn baby.

This understanding, however, is not complete without the recognition that, from the beginning, every human being is not just a body but also an immortal soul, with a unique and eternal connection with God, our Creator.

It is because of what both science and faith reveal to us that the Church and many people of good will have always held that the unborn child merits the full protection of the law, and why we have always rejected elective abortion.

This Day for Life 2026, we reflect on the wonder of human life from the moment of fertilisation. We remember how the Lord Jesus Christ Himself sanctified and experienced the beginning of life in the world as an unborn child, hidden in the womb of Mary. Mary knew that she was carrying the Son of God – God and man – as soon as He was conceived. John the Baptist leapt in his mother Elizabeth’s womb when Mary greeted her. Our Lady treasured Our Lord in her heart and womb until His birth.

We, in our turn, commit ourselves to work and pray for our society to cherish the value of every little one, especially those at the earliest stage of human life, and to help our parish communities support all those in our midst who have suffered the loss of a child.
